

COACH TERRY

CEO, ASTROLABE ACADEMY

Coach Terry Travers serves as CEO of Astrolabe Academy, a unique, national, virtual high school and community that leads teen students to success through learner-centered education. In addition to 20 plus years of teaching and leadership experience, she brings a passion for helping teens overcome their educational anxiety. Terry understands the frustrations that arise in much of our youth as they grapple with their education and fervently believes that teens can love learning, even if they struggled in a traditional school.

Coach Terry is a visionary educational leader on a mission to change the core of education globally. She speaks at conferences, seminars, summits and webinars. She uses science and research-based information to help experts and parents alike understand the issues at school that cause adolescent youth to act out and provides a clear framework to help them break through barriers created by our present institutional education system. Terry thrives when she's helping parents reconnect with their teens and helping those teens rediscover their passion for learning.

BUSTING THE MYTHS OF EDUCATION

Discover the pain-free, guilt-free, curriculum-free, wildly successful method for home educating teens.

Education today is a mess and is clearly not working for many students. Yet, we hang on to what we were taught and face extreme societal pressures when we consider alternatives. Coach Terry addresses these topics:

- Why your teen may be miserable in a traditional school environment.
- Common reasons why your teen may even struggle in homeschool settings.
- Overcoming the top 10 objections parents face when making the decision to homeschool and especially unschool, with science, data, and anecdotes.
- How to empower your teen with to take control of their education and future.
- How to reconnect with your teen.
- Options, tools, & resources to help them thrive.

Learning Outcomes: Parents come away feeling more confident in their decision to homeschool or unschool and are armed with the statistics that thoroughly supports their decision. They have a much better understanding of self-directed learning (unschooling) and the many advantages to allowing their children to direct their own education.

Coach Terry covers these topics and more in an all day seminar and offers specific portions for keynote and conference talks as well as workshops. Her book, Busting the Myths of Education, is due to be released in early October 2022.

TESTIMONIALS

"The information Coach Terry provided was eye-opening and completely changed the way I look at my daughter's education" -DL

"Thank you for this! I love homeschooling my child, but was afraid to let go of the curriculum even though we fight over it almost every day and I hate it as much as he does. This gives me what I needed to move forward with him in the lead and helps my anxiety over failing him." -Amy

"My teen is really struggling with anxiety in school and I had no idea how to help her. I can't tell you how grateful I am for this information." -BW
